A phishing email has been reported using Paul Formica's name but NOT his email. This is a scam. If you receive an email from Paul or anyone, make sure the email address makes sense before replying.

The information source for these phishing emails seems to come from our website. Someone or something uses the site to find out enough information to make an email that is realistic sounding. But the email is actually not a real email address. Based on research, the best preventative for this is to make sure your virus protection is working and your spam filter is set to high.

On March 5, a public hearing was held regarding proposed updated zoning regulations. There were no comments, and the BOG approved the zoning regulations to take effect March 15.

Here is the list of changes to the zoning regulations.
